

The girl who grew dragons

Saturday 6th June

By charlotte

Today me and my grandad went into our garden to dig up our weeds. When we went out my grandad wanted to show me a tree. My dad said it was called bongo weed, my grandad corrected me he said it was called bongle weed, my grandad said we should throw it into the bonfire. But then it started to glow I asked my grandad why is it glowing? He said because the sun will shine on it. I didn't feel like throwing it into the bonfire. Before we went inside, I took a round circle from the tree and put it under my arm. I hid it on my desk in my room. I searched up bongle weed on my laptop and it came up with dragon fruit it was round and look exactly like the one on my desk.

Then I went down for my tea. As I sat down I heard a bang coming from my room I ran up in excitement. I opened my door and I looked round my room but I didn't see anything. Then I heard a sound coming from my desk so I walked over to it I moved my laptop and Argh! it was a dragon.

I ran down stairs as fast as I could my father said what was wrong but I ignored him I ran back upstairs with a bowl of porridge in to my room and shut the door and put the bowl of porridge on my desk. My dad called out my name and I ran back down stairs and said yes to my dad. My dad said what's wrong I said nothing just need some exercise. I walked back upstairs and the dragon was purple it felt bumpy I was shocked by what I was seeing.
